

Behavior Analysis Services

313 North State Road #7, Plantation, Florida 33317 954-414-6000; 954-234-3196

Tool Checklist: Set Expectations NEGOTIATING FOR WHAT YOU WANT

|                  | $tep  | Yes | No | N/A | Comments |
|------------------|--|-----|----|-----|----------|
| 1234 | Set the Stage - Time (away from behavior) Place (uninterrupted) Set Positive Tone Ask for/get permission to negotiate or get help from a mentor.         |     |    |     |          |
| 5                | Talk to be HEARD State clearly the proposed new arrangement/responsibility and the way that the other person will benefit from the arrangement.          |     |    |     |          |
| 7                | State clearly what you would like to earn/how you would benefit from the new arrangement.  Use language that shows respect.                              |     |    |     |          |
| 8                | Use Empathy or Re-Approach at a better time if the other person is getting upset/nasty/frustrated/etc.   |     |    |     |          |
| 9                | Negotiate Adjust your request based on the other person's suggestions or counter-offers.   |     |    |     |          |
| 10               | Ask the other person to clarify any terms of the arrangement that may be unclear to you, if necessary.   |     |    |     |          |
| 11               | Restate the terms of the agreed-upon arrangement as you understand them and ask the other person for acknowledgement that your understanding is correct. |     |    |     |          |
| 12               | End on Good Terms Thank the other person for their time/for negotiating with you.  |     |    |     |          |
| 13               | "Work It" by Staying in Control Ignore Negativity and Stay Cool Follow through on your end of the deal!  |     |    |     |          |